

TONY JONES - TOWN MODERATOR

Tony Jones is committed to strengthening Charlestown through respectful leadership, civic engagement, and transparent local government. He currently serves on the Charlestown Affordable Housing Commission, where he works collaboratively to help address one of the community's most important challenges.

With a professional background in communications, psychology, and real estate, Tony understands the importance of listening, treating people with respect, and helping productive conversations move forward.

Tony strongly believes in Charlestown's Open Town Meeting form of government because it gives residents the opportunity to participate directly in the decisions that shape their community. Rather than leaving important choices solely to elected officials, Open Town Meeting empowers citizens to gather, discuss issues, and vote on the governance of their town. Tony believes this tradition reflects the very best of local democracy and deserves to be preserved and strengthened.

As Town Moderator, Tony's commitment is to conduct meetings fairly, follow the rules consistently, ensure every resident has the opportunity to be heard, and help Town Meeting remain respectful, organized, and efficient.

Tony is asking for your support to help preserve Charlestown's tradition of citizen participation and ensure every Town Meeting is conducted with fairness, transparency, and respect.
